

Recent avalanche activity

Date

Sun, 02/05/2023 - 11:35

Activity

Skiing

We observed some crowns from recent slides just south of the Flanders Peak east glade while touring up Flanders today. The snow was wind affected and slabby especially towards the ridges. No other signs of instability observed. We opted to stay in the trees and minimize exposure on the ski descent.

Region

Northern Gallatin

Location (from list)

Flanders Creek

Observer Name

Ben Dallas